GREECE IS THE WORD

You almost can't go wrong with a Greek holiday – the weather, the food and scenery hit all the right notes – so buy a ticket to perfection by picking one of these four hotels

The Wild

THE USP

Mykonos may be where the world's most glamorous like to gather, but this moment of rustic calm is a best-of-both bridge to retreat from after a day on – or looking at from the lounge – yachts.

THE DETAILS

A cliff-top hotel styled to pared-back perfection, these carefully curated rooms and suites overlook an infinity pool and the hotel's own secret cove of a beach. Pack plenty of swimwear outfits for this spot, you won't need very much else.

WHY CHOOSE THIS ONE

As the hotel's name suggests, this is a jumping-off point from the party scene Mykonos is known for, a base from which to explore nearby islands with no inhabitants, ancient ruins and water so clear it shines in all that sun.

DON'T MISS

The hotel has its own on-site taverna, a homely haven where health food is the order of the day.

Sani Resort

THE USP

A world of its own on a peninsula jutting out of mainland Greece. Ten pools, such as the one in the image on the right, 40 restaurants and seven kilometres of sun-kissed shoreline.

THE DETAILS

Flanked by deep blue sea on either side, the Sani Resort contains everything you need. More restaurants than you could hope to eat at if you stayed there for a month, it's pretty much a whole universe, with a pool to suit every mood, five spas (yes, truly), and 10km of forest trails if you get the itch to explore. You won't have to think about anything more strenuous than where to choose for lunch.

WHY CHOOSE THIS ONE

Last month saw the opening of the brand new Sani Asterias Beachfront Residential Suites, upping the ante of refinement in an already well-polished offering. The resort takes any of the guesswork out of the holiday experience – you know each meal, each spa treatment, each pool is going to be top notch.
